DISCLOSE MORE NAMES IN PROBE OF MORGAN FIRM

Senate Investigators List
Woodin and Former President

MANY PROMINENT MEN ARE NAMED

"Standard Brands", Alle-ghany Stocks Figure
In Discussions

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, May 25.—The name of former President Calvin Coolidge was contained in a list of favorite purchasers of "Standard Brands" stock through J. P. Morgan and Company introduced in evidence today in the senate investigation of the wealthy banking firm.
The list, composed of scores of prominent figures, showed that the late Mr. Coolidge purchased 3,000 shares out of a total of 722,600 sold.

Woodin On List
William H. Woodin, present secretary of the treasury, also was named as he was on the first list submitted yesterday which dealt with Alleghany stock sales to him at $20 when the market price was much higher. On the "Standard Brands" list Woodin was down as having purchased 1,000 units, the same amount as on the Alleghany allotment to "close friends" of the Morgan Banking House.

The "Standard Brands" issues were in the summer of 1929, after the late Mr. Coolidge left the White House.
Senate investigators also disclosed letters today from John J. Raskob and other prominent figures
"thanking" the firm for selling the Alleghany stock under special arrangements.

Meanwhile, Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, showed through questioning George Whitney, youthful member of the firm, that the bargain sales were made at the same time to Raskob, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Tells About Tax
(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 25.—The text of J. P. Morgan's statement to the senate investigators today on how he happened to pay income taxes to England in the last two years although not to this country:

"I was asked yesterday whether I paid any income taxes to any foreign government and replied that I had paid income taxes to the British government.

"May I state that my income tax to the British government is paid upon a statutory basis and is estimated by the inland revenue authorities, they basing their estimates upon the fact that I own property in Great Britain.

Alliance Girl Denies Heart Balm Charge

Miss Anne Sharer Answers Mrs. T. W. Canning's $50,000
Action

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, May 25.—A denial that Miss Anne Sharer, young Alliance (O.) heiress, attempted to persuade Theodore W. Canning of Wilmington, Del. to divorce his wife and marry her was on file in federal court today in answer to a $50,000 alienation of affections suit brought by Mrs. Canning.

The filing of the answer marked the second round in the legal fight that developed after

Canning Told Her That He Was Unmarried, Defendant

rope, and returned to the United States on the same boat.
In the belief "their marriage was about to be consummated", Miss Sharer continued, it was announced to "certain persons in the United States" that they were married.
Mrs. Canning in her suit charged that after Miss Sharer failed to persuade her traveling companion to obtain a divorce, she nevertheless tried to arrange a marriage in Rome.

NAME PHILLIPS FOR MAYOR RACE

Democrats Select Candidate At Campaign
Session Here

Norman Phillips, East Third st., will represent the Democratic party in the mayoralty race this fall, party leaders announced today following a meeting Wednesday night at the Memorial building.

An application to be forwarded to the county board of elections in East Liverpool was filed out by Phillips.

Applications have been obtained by several other Democrats for various other municipal positions. The party plans to have candidates lined up for most of the 12 elective offices for the primaries.

Further plans for the campaign will be arranged at another Democratic gathering which will be held next Wednesday night at the Memorial building.

Sixteen persons attended last night's session at which George Mc-Arthur presided.

Tetlow To Speak Memorial Day In Washingtonville

A parade and memorial services will be held when Washingtonville honors its war dead next Tuesday afternoon.

Percy Tetlow of Columbus, a native of Washingtonville and a former Salem resident, now acting district head of the United Mine Workers, will be the speaker.

The parade, headed by the Lec-tonia-Washingtonville band, with color-bearers, school children and representatives of churches and lodges, will form in front of the schoolhouse at 2:30. Transportation will be provided for all persons more than 70 years old.

Rev. G. D. Keister will give the invocation which will be followed by an address of welcome by Mayor Joseph G. Thorpe. A song by the community choir will be followed by Tetlow's address.

The program will be completed with another song by the choir, a military salute to the dead, a selection by the band and the invocation by Rev. A. R. Anderson.

In case of rain the program will be given in the school auditorium.

Suspend Classes On Monday, May 29

There'll be no school Monday,
May 29, it was announced today by Supt. Earl S. Kerr.

Suspension of classes on the day preceding Memorial day will give both teachers and students a vacation period from Saturday until Tuesday, inclusive.

The action comes as a result of requests from a large number of parents that their children be excused for the day. Inasmuch as the closing date for the schools is very late this year and conditions are unusual, it was deemed advisable to suspend classes, Supt. Kerr pointed out.

PASTOR SPEAKS AT CLUB EVENT

Trust Needed to Prevent War, Rev. Wright Tells
Kiwanis Members

Distrust breeds war and trust breeds peace, Rev. Dayton B.
Wright, pastor of the Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal), told members of the Kiwanis club in an address at the club's weekly meeting today.

The meeting was held at the Memorial building with two Civil war veterans, Charles Boushall and William Horne, as guests of honor.

Rev. Wright discussed causes of war and advanced the theory that the best means of obtaining world peace is not through international conferences and disarmament pactures but through the education of the individual toward a deeper trust in his fellow man.

"There would be less strife in the world," the speaker said, "if people would learn to trust one another, this trust being developed to replace the distrust now prevalent among peoples of all nations".

Boushall also gave a short talk.
Cecil K. Scott, president, was in charge.

MASCHKE QUILTS AS G. O. P. CHIEF

Morgan and Davis Mentioned for Cuyahoga
County Post

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., May 25.—Maurice Maschke, long a veteran Republican leader of populous Cuyahoga county, today resigned as chairman of the county Republican central committee after a recent series of criticisms from other Republican leaders.

The resignation of the man that has led Cuyahoga Republicans for 25 years was said in political circles to herald a stiff tussle for selection of a new chieftain when the county executive committee meets possibly within a few weeks.

Some of the executive committee members have announced their support of Daniel E. Morgan, former city manager of Cleveland, and others are believed to be behind former Governor Harry L. Davis.
Some have stated they have reached no decision.

"What of the future?" reporters
asked Maschke while he was writing out his brief resignation and editing it in long hand.

"I have no immediate plans," was the reply.

"I am still a Republican and expect to vote the Republican ticket as long as I agree with the principles of the party."

Three to Graduate From Mount Union

Three Salem young people, Lowell
E. Allen, Robert K. Cope and Anna

annual commencement, Tuesday, June 6. This is the second largest number in college history.

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Brooklyn
N. Y., will deliver the commencement address at 9:30 a. m. Dr.
Cadman is the only speaker who has ever been recalled to Mt. Union to deliver the commencement address.

SEEKS RETURN OF CONFIDENCE; "FORGET PAST"

Captain S. N. Dancy Addresses 100 At Dinner Here

READJUSTMENT
TO BE ABSORBED

Speaker Emphatic In Prediction of 30-
Hour Week

Voicing a stirring appeal for a return of confidence and pointing out that the restoration of improved conditions is up to every individual, not simply the government alone, Captain S. N. Dancy, head and founder of the American Legion, last night addressed approximately 100 at a dinner meeting in the Memorial building.

The meeting was sponsored by Charles H. Carey, post, No. 66, American Legion. Guests included members of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Quota clubs, as well as Legionnaires and others.

Peace-Time Group
John T. Burns, chairman of the county council of the American Legion, presided. In pointing Captain Dancy, he pointed out that the Legion has become a peace-time organization, functioning for the good of community,
state and nation.

Harold Babb, accompanied by Mrs. Babb, led group singing and also sang several solos.

Dancy spoke to high school and junior high school students yesterday. Today he left for Warren and Conneaut for speaking engagements.

He will return to Lisbon Sunday evening to address a union memorial service of churches and will speak during the afternoon of the same day at memorial services at Haverford.

His address last night was followed by an informal meeting at the Legion post, rooms here when problems of the Legion, as well as national problems as they relate to the Legion were discussed.

The practice of the average American of always transferring responsibility to his own personal failures and failures was described by Dancy as one of the causes of the economic depression. Religion, citizenship, responsibility for crime, lawlessness and racketeering, these things and most others of their kind were always something intended for the "other fellow."

Captain Dancy recalled how we blamed everything on the war, and after that, it was the depression, and now, is the machine age.

Predicts 30-Hour Week
"It is true that if every factory resumed peak production tomorrow morning they could only reemploy 70 percent of the men originally employed," he told his audience.

"But there is nothing alarming in that. Forty years ago, Jim Hill preached the gospel "back to the land" and if he were alive during the next 24 months, he would see the realization of his dream. The 30-hour week is coming as surely as there is a sun in the heavens above.

The point is this. Past civilizations have absorbed every readjustment in the onward march and my faith is sufficient to convince me that the present civilization will absorb all present readjustments, if you and I play the game.

The boundless optimism that paid no regard to the interest of others and yet denied nothing to ourselves was the condition that aided in the collapse. Its elimination can help, in equal measure, the restoration. Self analysis was one of the finest things in the world for the individual and for the nation. "You can never sell what you have not got any more than you can give out information until you first have it."

Captain Dancy, in a brief, analytical survey, a stock taking.

Kenton Man Killed by Lightning

Street intersections were flooded, sewers clogged and dirt thoroughfares were damaged when heavy rains, accompanied by thunder and lightning, struck the Salem district about 4:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Water rushed over curbs at the intersection of East State st. and Lincoln ave. in the downtown district. Dirt streets were washed out in several sections of the city with debris clogging sewers.

The rain fell in torrents for more than 15 minutes.

Youngstown Hit

houses and a church were struck by lightning here late yesterday in the heaviest electrical and rain storm

15 trucks were kept busy for several hours clearing away debris. Two 6,000-volt electric lines were put out of commission.

burst struck Athens this morning, residences and business houses, and damaging telephone lines.

Within an hour and a half 2.77 inches of rain fell, and the Hocking river came up six feet in a short time. The streets in the city resembled creeks.

The Plains, a filling station owned

HITLER ENVOY ESCAPES MOB

Angered Crowd Turns On Police; Arrest 13;
Score Injured

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 25.—Rioting broke out today at the North German Lloyd line pier in Brooklyn in connection with the arrival in America of Hans Weidemann, representative of Adolf Hitler's German government at the forthcoming world fair exposition in Chicago.

A crowd of 1,000 men and women anti-Hitlerites, awaiting the arrival of the Nazi official, became enraged
when it was learned that Weidemann and an aide accompanying him to the exposition had been transferred from the liner Columbus to a tug and brought to the Battery in Manhattan.

Turn On Police

Displaying banners condemning
"the Nazi murder and terror regime," the crowds turned on the 50 uniformed police and 30 plainclothes men, throwing bricks and bottles at them.

Police engaged in hand-to-hand combat with the rioters and after a struggle arrested 13 men and women, the latter wearing red hats.

The prisoners were locked up in a garage near the pier. Rioting broke out afresh with the imprisonment of the 13. With police standing guard in front of the garage door, the crowd again charged them.

Reserves were called and in a short time additional police forces arrived on foot, on horseback and in automobiles. Order was restored only after police drew their guns and leveled them at the crowd.

During the melee more than a score were injured, including four policemen, one of whom suffered a fractured right arm.

Early today a delegation from the German consulate here went to the pier to welcome Weidemann and

Michael Manning, 50, Is Victim; Body Is Taken

Roy Green found in Truck
From Which Manning
Had Alighted

Search was being conducted today by Columbiana county authorities for a hit-skip driver whose automobile last night struck and killed Michael Manning, 50, of East Liverpool, on the Lisbon-East Liverpool rd., near Rock Camp, a short distance south of the Buckeye club.

Enroute to Warren Manning is reported to have been struck while he was walking along the highway after he had alighted from a truck in which he and Roy Green, also of East Liverpool, were enroute to Warren for a load of pottery ware.

The accident occurred at 10:30 p.
m. Deputies George Hayes and Paul Early being detailed for the investigation by Sheriff Frank Ballantine. No trace, they said, has been obtained of the driver of the automobile which struck Manning.

their arrival at the scene of the mishap, they found the truck driven by Green in a ditch adjacent to the highway with Green lying on the front seat.

A NEW FIGURE

Seldom do politicians emerge as quickly as Lazarus Kaganovich, newly come to power in Russia, has appeared to Americans. Their first introduction leaves them groping for his name. They are totally unfamiliar with his place in Russia's experimental structure.

There is, however, little reason to be surprised at their unfamiliarity. A poll probably would reveal acquaintance with but one man in contemporary Russian life—Josef Stalin, the dictator. A combination of censorship and the difficulty of Russian names effectually prevents interested parties in the United States from thinking of Russia in terms of personalities, which probably would be the only accurate method of really understanding what is going on.

Comrade Kaganovich is that rare creation—the probable successor to a dictator. He is at Stalin's right hand, placed there by Stalin himself. Success in his various duties has caused the people to welcome his presence there. In all probability, his name, now that it has been made known in the United States, will be one of the recurring ones in news from Russia.

It will help to know that Russia has two powerful men. It will ally one of the stock fears concerning dictatorship in Italy—disposition of the government when the dictator dies. Men of steel and iron are not common; they do not thrive in each other's company. In Russia, apparently, two strong men are working hand in hand. Stalin, old in service, has found a capable understudy in Kaganovich, who is not yet 40 years old. Conjecture or fact, it interests the world to hear of Lazarus Kaganovich and his power.

OUTLET

At least two cities are celebrating the "end of the depression" with public demonstrations this week. Chicago is leading up to the official opening of its exposition with a municipal whoopee party. In this state, Springfield is out in the lead with a mammoth parade and festivities lasting until the end of the week.

The idea is good. Circumstances which make action on it possible are still better. For the first time since administration officials in Washington tried to talk the people out of helping the depression by acting depressed, it is possible to be gay about the future without being silly in the present.

It is not unlikely that such events as have been planned for Chicago and Springfield will be repeated generally throughout the nation. If the depression truly is on the wane, there is ample cause for celebration. In fact, celebrations themselves are stimulants. They are a form of self-persuasion. Through them, people learn to believe in their own strength.

It is not unreasonable to hope that if they are to be planned in any considerable number there will be included in them by some means an expression of this thought: Depression shall not happen again. At least there should be determination in the period of emergence from hard times that the lessons of experience shall not have been taught in vain.

It is unnecessary to enumerate those lessons. Literally, there are dozens of them. In the last few years and in the coming years they will be catalogued completely. Leadership should be thoroughly familiar with them. Followers also are under obligation to understand them. Celebrations of the "end of the depression" would be short of their real purpose as emotional outlets if they did not include assurance that another depression was not a mere matter of time.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE.

NEW YORK, May 25—An auto breakdown and sudden shower sent us scurrying to the porch of one of those all-alike box cottages on the fringe of a Long Island suburb. While we waited a coupe drove up and a rather abashed couple streaked across the lawn. They occupied the house and asked us in.

There was a newness and varnish smell about the oak suite of the living room. His suit, too, was Sundayed and her hat had the appearance of being made at home. Slowly it dawned they were newlyweds. Indeed they had just come from a person's to their outfitted nest now cluttered with interlopers.

Each had that delightful timidity of the very young. He tried to appear nonchalant while she seemed lost in illimitable wonder of her groom. They showed us their new radio, their frisky fox terrier puppy and he told us something of his invention—he was not going to be always tied to an office.

On a turn up the cellar steps from his carpenter shop I glanced back and he was snatching a quick kiss. Skies cleared and they stood waving on the boundary of their paradise gazing arm in arm into the dusk and their future! All of us long marrieds tried to say something but none could.

Whenever I behold a young corned bride I think of the mountaineer who described his betrothed daughter to Riley Wilson as "the apple butter makestrick in West Virginia."

Our chauffeur, John De Carlo, is something of a romanticist. Born and reared amid the beeping of the metropolis, he has a flair for the beauty of open spaces. He is a glutton for sunsets, imprisoning their imagery in some spare locker of his brain. If at twilight he suddenly veers through a forgotten street, we know he is on his way to reveal some newly discovered sunset. Last evening after a quick turn we found ourselves on an upland shoot near 63d Boulevard in Corona. The sky was flushing with dying colors, red, russet to orange. All the spires of New York seemed pendulating in the bonfire. "Ain't that the makestrick," inquired John.

Another sunset view John has taught us to love is seen from the Speedway after passing the Polo Grounds along the Harlem River. Here leaping in surprising curves are the sheer spans of two enormous bridges. The sun on the water throws the bridges into odd base relief with a lavender haze powerizing the grooved slopes of either side. It is another miracle in Nature's generous handouts.

But Masterston's favorite eating place, Beef-steak Charlie's, scooped between narrow walls, a hop-skip off Broadway, carries on. The profusion of trotters and running horses framed along its length indicate the race track clientele. Sporty men with those ladies who yell unashamed in grand stands make up most of the patronage. I once saw Earl Sande there and in other days its enormous specialty combination salad used to attract Al Smith and Alfred Lewis.

Thingumabob. Corey Ford's chateaux in the hills near Freedom, N. H., can be reached in the winter only by dog sled. Karl Harriman, Philadelphia publisher, gave Eddie Guest, once his office boy, his first rhyming book. Ogden Nash finds the one-armed lunch a swell place to think up poetry. Charles Hanson Towne's bachelor quarters have been made more livable by a Boston puppy. Julian Street, Jr. has become a crack writer of radio scripts. May Christie occupies an ex-movie star's castle in Beverly Hills. Roy Howard will be in the Orient two months.

It has doubtless been commented upon, but it strikes me the bus-dressed ladies with the most imperial manners in New York are not of aristocratic circles or stage. They are, instead, buyers for large department stores. They have a refined hauteur and self-assurance no other class of professional women obtain. One today was a combination of Maxine Elliott, Queen Mary and the Countess Surpuss.

I called on this buyer in interest of a deserving friend. After mulling something, she said perky without looking up "Speak up!" In the confusion I said Adam's Apple deep in a setting of hiccupps and I was still scattering them about as I backed out. One cannot go burping all over the lot and call a Lady Agatha off her perch.

AMHERST, Mass.—Scholarship honors will reunite two next fall. After graduating from Amherst last year, Bob Greenough went to Cambridge University, England, on a Simpson Fellowship. Now his twin brother, Tom, has been awarded a similar scholarship, and will go to Cambridge in the fall.

TULSA, Tex.—For the first time in four years recently, the Swisher county jail here was without an occupant—a "break" for subsequent inmates. For during the absence of tenants, the authorities painted, disinfected and generally cleaned the interior.

Morgan the Mighty Under Senate Probe

A remarkable series of Candid Camera studies of John Pierpont Morgan, head of the world's largest private banking firm, as he appeared when first witness before the Senate committee investigating private banking practices. All the emotions, from joviality to intense concentration, are indicated in the facial expressions of the money czar as he answers the probing questions of Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the Senate committee, who drew an admission from the banker that none of the Morgan partners had paid income tax for 1931 or 1932.

Asthma Is Curable

It is a pathetic sight to see the sufferer in an attack of asthma. The victim has marked difficulty in breathing and complains that he is unable to catch his breath. He assumes odd positions in the effort to breathe more freely and get more air into his lungs. Difficulty in breathing is due to a spasm of the windpipe and of the smaller bronchi, the tubes that bring air to the lungs. At times the sufferer from this disease appears as if he were choking to death. His lips become blue. The face is red and distorted in the effort to breathe.

In Severe Attacks

Fortunately, the attacks are not always so severe. When severe, relief can only be obtained by a hygienic injection given by a physician or trained nurse. The hygienic medication is adrenalin. Adrenalin relaxes the muscles of the windpipe and allows normal breathing.

For many years sufferers from this dreaded disease resorted to patent medicines, home remedies and other temporary forms of relief. Cure was not expected. I am glad to say that within recent years many victims of asthma have been cured of this dreadful affliction. By means of "sensitivity tests" it is now possible in many instances to determine the substances that cause attacks of asthma. Some persons are believed to possess a certain sensitivity to plants, vegetable dust or certain foods. Once the irritating substance is known, it is possible to remove or diminish the sensitivity by the injection of special vaccines. The vaccine is made from the substance that causes the attack.

In some instances, asthma has been traced to a source of infection within the body. For example, diseased and infected nasal sinuses, teeth, tonsils, appendix, gall bladder or intestines may be the cause. Relief is obtained when the source of infection is removed.

Not an Incurable Disease
Too often the sufferer from asthma avoids medical advice. He believes he is the victim of an incurable disease. May I warn all my readers against this false notion. Asthma is a difficult disease to cure.

What Others Say

COWS AND HENS

The government crop report for Ohio issued a few days ago indicates clearly that even the hens and the cows are joining in the movement to relieve the farmer. They are cutting production. With lessened production the prices may go higher.

One of the axioms of the economists who treat of the farm problems is that production must be cut so that the output of farm produce is somewhat near the normal domestic demand. Many ways of accomplishing that reduction have been proposed.

Along come the hens and cows and just cooperate by cutting down their own output. Production of eggs per 100 hens was nearly one per cent less than last year and the 1925-1929 average the crop report noted. But, reader, you will not miss tomorrow's breakfast egg for the number of hens was increased. Flocks were somewhat larger. Possibly the birds have recognized this and in their economic wisdom cackled less frequently.

Same thing is true of cows. There are a few more cows in herds, output was about 16.2 pounds of milk per cow which is one per cent less than a year ago—lowest point since the record began in 1926.

Wet weather has caused some backwardness in the pastures and hay crops which may account for some of the decline in milk production. Cows and hens may be taking life just a bit easier.—Toledo Times.

but it is not incurable.

A person suffering from asthma must place himself in the hands of a competent physician. Examination of the urine, blood, sputum, X-ray of the lungs, and where indicated "sensitivity tests" are of tremendous value in bringing about relief and cure. Without these fundamental tests the probable cause of asthma cannot be determined and cure cannot be expected.

I cannot overemphasize the importance of a thorough and complete physical examination by a physician. He will discover physical defects and correct them whenever possible. Habits and manner of living are other factors that must not be overlooked.

Continued attacks of asthma weaken the heart and the lungs. When neglected the disease may prove serious.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 22, 1933

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself.

The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery.

There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before.

My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice.

Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users.

We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world.

We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer — it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect.

I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it.

The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience.

We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

SEEKS RETURN OF CONFIDENCE

Captain S. N. Dancy Address 100 At Dinner Here

pointed to some of the serious problems faced by people of this nation, problems that have been created through our own folly and failure to undertake responsibilities of citizenship in return for the privileges. Among the problems, he listed unemployment and the breakdown of the industrial system built on the rock of materialism to the exclusion of the mental and spiritual, the lack of constructive thought, absence of high moral standards, the fact that Americans, as a whole, are uninformed on public issues and yet so opinionated, the youth problem, the conflict between the laws of nature and laws of man, the conflict between man made religion and the religion of Christ.

Be Practical and Idealistic
Man would have to be restored to his proper status where he could live in conformity with the laws of God and nature. Humility and simplicity were imperative in the building of character. One should always be practical enough to profit by the lessons of the past but idealistic enough to be constantly looking to the future.

Under this head, the speaker deplored the tendency of so many who are always looking to the past. "We have too many pillars of salt in this land today too many who are sitting and weeping in the midst of ruins. The most unchristian thing in human life is pessimism. It reveals a lack of faith and lack of faith reveals a lack of the fundamentals of human life. To conquer doubt and fear is to conquer failure and if a man will fix his thoughts on courage instead of fear, he can literally walk through hell and be unafraid."

Education was offered as the solution of all problems and it would have to be the type of education that would teach men the meaning of life. Man had to pay the price for everything in life and he generally got about what he paid for. There was no short cut to morals or to character or to citizenship.

Adult education was stressed as being of equal importance as the education of the youth. Captain Dancy gave interesting insights on the youth problem and appealed for a more human understanding of the youth. To the speaker, the school was the biggest industry in America and the boys and girls the only open door to America's future, the only remnant of the open mind left in America.

Today's Biggest Job
The biggest job today was that of parenthood and it was just as necessary for the parent to study his job as it was for the lawyer or the doctor to study in their professions. There were two departments of life where the average American felt that all the knowledge necessary was his through divine inspiration. One was patriotism and the other was citizenship. But that is just one more case of jay walking. The boy of today is living in a different world, using different thoughts, thinking in a different language and the old, antiquated methods will serve no longer in treating with his problems.

Captain Dancy made a stirring appeal for a return to confidence. Conditions were on the upswing but it was going to be a slow, long, tedious upward climb. The government could not do the job alone, nor could any one group. Every man would have to be made to realize that it was up to him individually, that he would have to be big enough to admit his failure, sit down and analyze that failure, learn its lesson and profit in a measure to insure the honest performance of citizenship duties. The speaker closed with a word picture of "zero hour" in the trench lines of France, pointed to the present crisis as one infinitely more serious, and appealed for the sweeping aside of all selfish thought and design and a united front behind the sound leadership of Roosevelt for the upward advance to a restored happiness.

SCHOOL NEWS AND VIEWS

Interesting Items For Students, Teachers and Parents

By RALPH LONG, Jr.

Captain Dancy, veteran of the famous Rainbow division, addressed an assembly yesterday.

He spoke on the future of America being in the hands of youth. At the conclusion of his speech he answered questions. Some of the questions were:

(Q)—"Do you think the United States should enter the League of Nations?"

(A)—"All the nations over the world must cooperate if anything is to be accomplished."

(Q)—"What do you think about Roosevelt?"

(A)—"I'm for Roosevelt 100 per cent. The crisis is too great for party quibbling. Cooperation should be the key word at the present."

Cheers and songs were given throughout the program. Captain Dancy sang several army songs before departing.

The band held its annual picnic at Dunn Eden lake yesterday. Games of all kinds made up the program.

Junior High

A humorous play entitled "It Pays to be a Poodle" was given by members of the Book club before an eighth grade assembly on Tuesday.

Members of the cast were as follows: Mrs. Poggie, Sarah Phillips; Mr. Poggie, Dean Glass; Anne Poggie, Agnes Grimes; Dan Poggie, Robert Kaminsky; messenger boy, Robert Batlin. The play was directed by Gladys Rich and Jeanne Wright.

RALEIGH, N. C.—An overambitious artist here painted a picture of an overgrown ape 40 feet high and 18 feet wide to advertise a motion picture, but the theater was forced to take the sign down after mothers from all over the city protested, saying the sign frightened children and made them cry.

Says Her Husband Lost 16 Pounds In 4 Weeks

"I have never found a medicine that 'peps' you up like Kruschen Salts and better still, leaves you 'pepped up'. I take it two or three times a week—not to reduce, but merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce, he lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks", Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 29, 1932).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar. Adv

LENDING MONEY
JOHN CALVIN
A NEW TRAIN

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1933 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)
THE TESTIMONY of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan interests the country. That the great banker and his partners have paid no income tax during the past two years is not surprising. Losses in that time more than offset earnings with a majority of rich Americans. In 1929, when times were good, the 29 Morgan partners paid to the government $11,000,000 in taxes.
What is really interesting, especially to President Roosevelt, is the fact that the House of Morgan, greatest international banking firm in the world, lent money to Mr. Norman Davis, who represents, talks and makes promises for the United States at league of nations meetings in Geneva.

NO ONE doubts that borrowings by Mr. Davis are business-like and protected by collateral. But the average American would have thought it more fitting if the spokesman for the United States, promising among other things, that the United States would meddle in future European wars, had not borrowed from a banking house with important branches in London and Paris.

TO RECEIVE encouraging, enlightening letters from clergymen is a rare thing. From South Omaha, Neb., the Rev. Leon C. Hills, D. D., pastor of the Wheeler Memorial Presbyterian church, writes:
"As you found something good to say, even about Ivan the Terrible, I was wondering if you might not have some kind word to write about John Calvin."

A thousand good things can be said of John Calvin.
Better than any non-Biblical writer, he formulated "the duty of man," and in only eight words, "to know and do the will of God."

HIS ADMIRERS regret that John Calvin should have approved the burning alive of the learned Doctor Michael Servetus. And they doubt the statement that Calvin ordered damp wood for the Servetus bonfire "to make the burning last longer."

However, men must be judged by their times and by their intentions. It was customary, in fact, it was a sacred duty, to burn your religious enemy in the sixteenth century.

Calvin and others believed that Servetus was fighting against the will of God, and Calvin would have preferred that Servetus be beheaded, rather than burned. As to the damp wood, if it is used, Servetus was undoubtedly suffocated at Gotthold Schneider, a German artist, shortly after the arrival at the pier the anti-Hitlerites began to gather. Sensing trouble, German officials engaged a private tug and went out to meet Widemann and Schneider.

The departure of the Germans in the tug aroused the suspicions of the crowd and before the North German Lloyd line docked the rioting started.

BOISE, Idaho—Industrious, indeed, are magpie hens, judging from the number of eggs turned in by those seeking bounties. In just one week boys turned in 15,000 eggs to the fish and game department. A bounty of a cent an egg is paid because magpies are in the habit of eating the eggs of other and more valuable birds.

THE DAY IN SPORTS

SCORING IN TRACK
NEW SYSTEM NEEDED

CLOSE STUDY is now being centered by track and field experts of the nation towards the development of a new scoring system to govern meets to be staged in future seasons. Much criticism is being turned on existing scoring systems which place a premium on larger squads, giving them distinct advantages over schools with fewer athletes.

The greatest portion of this criticism comes as an aftermath of last week's Big Ten meet in which Michigan won the championship in spite of the fact that the University of Indiana, generally conceded to have the finest athletes in the Western Conference, won eight of 16 events. Michigan had but two firsts.

The Wolverines, however, made up for the point-making deficiency by placing athletes in great numbers in second, third, fourth and fifth places. With its tremendous man-power the Wolverines qualified a small army of athletes for finals and had an overwhelming advantage over other colleges.

The same thing happened in the Big Six meet Saturday at Lincoln, Neb. where Kansas won ten firsts yet finished second to Nebraska. The five, four, three, two and one point system was used in both meets.

FIRST PLACE winners should be given more than five points—we suggest six or eight, with points for others remaining as is. No more than eight should be awarded, however, as too often one athlete can, by winning three first places, take the meet for his school. Jesse Owens did that for East Tech at Columbus Saturday but no one's saying a word; he deserved every one of the 19½ points he scored.

At Columbus six points are given for first place. In this system, however, second and third place winners still get seven points and the scoring in our opinion, should be fixed that the first-place winner is awarded more than the next two combined. To win an event certainly merits the winner more credit than that going to the second and third place athlete; why not reward him proportionately in points?

ORGANIZATION of a softball tournament is being planned this summer under auspices of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company. Fred Colley, head of the Goodyear employees' activities committee, notified your scribe today.

Colley wishes to ascertain whether the idea meets the approval of softball league executives and managers throughout the district and says he will appreciate hearing from any team heads in Salem.

JEFFERSON, Mo.—After Missouri legislators had ended their session, and returned to their homes, State house custodians discovered that 31 out of the original 190 water demijohns were missing.

Work of Averill Also Dissatisfies Bradley; Seek Cause of Slump

Dissatisfied with the showing of the Cleveland Indians, President Alva Bradley, in an address at a meeting of the team in New York Wednesday, threatened to relieve Roger Peckinpaugh of his post as manager with the statement "if we don't win under Peck we'll have to try someone else".

Bradley, in New York on a business trip, set a precedent for team owners by calling players together in the Yankee stadium clubhouse where he issued his ultimatum and also took issue with the team's "big guns" for their mediocre performance at bat so far this season.

ATHLETICS STEP INTO 4TH PLACE IN LEAGUE RACE

Mack's Re-made Nine gets Going; Bridges Hurls Third 1-Hit Game

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

When Connie Mack sold three star players to the Chicago White Sox and maintained the Philadelphia Athletics still could put a team on the field that would be a pennant contender, echoes of the more or less subdued laughter of the "experts" rang all around the American League. But it appears that after all the "tall talk" knew what he was talking about.

New Squad Gets Going

An outfield consisting of Ed Coleman, Bob Johnson and Roger Cramer, all youngsters; a rookie, Frank Higgins at third base and another, Eddie Gihocki, at short, hardly looks like the material of which a contender is made, but with these players, plus Jimmie Fox, Mickey Cochrane and Lefty Grove, the A's have been winning ball games since they began their home stand against the west.

A week after the season started the Athletics were in the American League cellar. They started hitting on their return home in ten days have won seven out of eight games, and have climbed finally into the first division.

They made the final step into fourth place yesterday by walloping the St. Louis Browns 7 to 4 in a game cut short in the sixth inning by a thunderstorm that flooded the field and started a small fire when lightning struck a recently vacated part of the stand.

Grove made his fourth successive appearance in the finishing role, pitching the last inning.

Indians Rained Out

Cleveland was rained out at New York. The Chicago White Sox gained second place when they were kept idle at Boston.

The Senators ran into Tommy Bridges' second one-hit game of the season and went down a notch as Detroit won 3-1. Bridges faced only 29 men as he lost a perfect game for the third time in his short career. Joe Kuhel clouted a home run in the eighth.

In the National, the Pirates pounded steadily at Brooklyn pitching, won out 6-5 in the tenth inning. The Cincinnati Reds meanwhile gave the Giants a 3-1 setback, falling on George Uhle in the first three innings for the winning runs while Bob Smith held New York in check.

The Cubs after two defeats by the last place Phillies, turned around and administered a sound 5-2 drubbing to their oppressors.

Boston and St. Louis were rained out.

HAUSER SEEKING LEAGUE RECORD

Veteran Minneapolis 1st Sacker Already Has Hit 13 Homers

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 25.—At the rate he is going now, Joe Hauser, the American association's champion home run hitter has a big chance of setting a new league record.

Hauser, out of action a good share of last season with injuries, managed to help the Minneapolis championship outfit with 49 circuit drives, five short of the record established by Henry Nicholas Cullip, now of Columbus, in 1930, while a member of the Miller club.

The big Minneapolis first baseman today had slugged out 13 homers in 33 games. He got his thirteenth yesterday, but it failed to keep the Millers from losing to Milwaukee, 8 to 5, and dropping into third place behind Columbus and St. Paul.

St. Paul stretched its winning streak to nine games, by taking another from Kansas City, 4 to 3. The Saints made eight hits off John Niggeling one less than the Blues got off Les Munns, but two errors in the fifth helped them to a pair of runs. St. Paul's victory left it only one

Fischer Wins Big Ten Title

(By Associated Press)

EVANSTON, Ill., May 25.—Johnny Fischer, lanky university of Michigan junior who hopes to cut quite a figure in the national open and amateur golf tournaments this year, has warmed up for his campaign by winning his second straight western conference title.

The Cincinnati youngster, who won the medal in the national amateur qualifying round last year, made a brilliant finish yesterday at the Kildeer county club to round up a 72-hole total of 301 strokes, 14 better than Earl Larson of Minnesota, and Ed Dayton, another wolverine, who tied for second. He was late getting started, going two strokes over par in the outward nine in the afternoon, after taking a 76 in the morning.

On the home nine, however, he mixed in a pair of birdies with pars to finish the round in 72 par for the layout. Michigan's team total was 1,291. Minnesota, the 1932 runner-up, finished second with 1,306.

Northwestern was third, scoring 1,326. Ohio State was fourth with 1,373, and the other four teams finished as follows: Wisconsin 1,379; Illinois 1,384; Indiana 1,401; and Chicago 1,431. Purdue and Iowa were not represented.

THE CHALLENGE OF LOVE

by WARWICK DEEPING

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX

In dealing with the state of Navestock town the "Wannington Clarion" disappointed all those readers who liked to coat their texts with mud before they slung them. The paper had been disapproved, and taught to handle facts. There was an absence of rant that surprised Navestock and made nican, circuitous gentlemen such as Mr. Wilks feel uneasy. Some god stood behind the gods, restraining, directing, launching these cool, judicial revelations. Boxall's proof-sheets were slashed and amended by some autocratic and shrewd blue pencil. Personalities were banished. There were the facts to quarrel with, and nothing more.

Turrell sneered, but there was exasperation behind his scorn. He had a suspicion that he was being attacked by some new sort of scientific artillery.

Then those who ruled "The Clarion" did a subtle thing. In the same week's issue there appeared, side by side, a description of Lord Blackwater's admirably managed estate and a survey of a portion of Navestock town. No conclusion was drawn, no morals pointed. Just the stark contrasts were set down in plain language. Those who read the two accounts could set facts beside facts, and draw their own conclusions.

Yet Navestock — proletarian Navestock — was not in the least grateful. It had been born and bred in dependence and servility. It misjudged the "ever-strenuous people" who seemed inclined to turn everything upside down.

"What's the good of baiting old Turrell? The man ain't perfect, but he spends his money here. And, supposing, for the sake of argument, they made him pull down all these there lanes they couldn't make him put 'em up again, could they? You can't force a man to build. And supposing he shut up the brewery, and turned all the chaps out? What's to become of us as gets a living in the town? Yah — I don't hold with bumbodies. We don't want so much of this darned sympathy. There ain't enough cottages in the town as it is. We want to be let alone."

All the world loves to see things happen dramatically, and Hector Turrell had a sense of the dramatic. He was applied and eaned on by the young bucks and toddlers who foregathered in the billiard-room of the White Hart Hotel. Young Turrell was the George IV of Navestock, the first gentleman in the town, and its foremost dandy.

These knowing bucks, these gorgeous men of the world rallied to him enthusiastically.

"Ba Jove! that's the game! Give the fellow a thrashing and eaned on by the young bucks and toddlers who foregathered in the billiard-room of the White Hart Hotel. Young Turrell was the George IV of Navestock, the first gentleman in the town, and its foremost dandy.

"Or put him down one of his own wells! He seems fond of wells!"

Hector Turrell twiddled a stout cane, leaning against the billiard-table.

Laurel and Hardy Coming to State Friday and Saturday

IF you want to laugh from the very beginning of the picture to the last—and then wish it was only the beginning—bring the whole family and come down to the State theater either Friday or Saturday and see—you've guessed it—Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in "The Devil's Brother."

Has Musical Background
This is the first of the Laurel and Hardy comedies that has a musical background—this time they are a pair of rollicking bandits and what a time they have. The story is based on the comic opera "Fra Diavolo" and its cast includes Dennis King, the noted singer and stage star and Thelma Todd.

The two boys are seen as a pair of carefree vagabonds who have saved their money and who are now ready to decide to take life easy. At practically the same time they decide to seek the path of adventure some bandits rob them of their savings. It then occurs to Laurel that they might as well be bandits themselves.

Undertaking the career of highway robbers they eventually confront Diavolo the most notorious robber in the country. Pretending to be the great robber himself, Hardy soon discovers his mistake. However, it is too late for the escape of the would-be robbers and Diavolo's band surrounding the comedians and make them their prisoners.

Hardy Sentenced To Hang
Hardy is sentenced to hang and Laurel is given the position as hangman. The comedians are saved temporarily when they consent to be the personal aides of the bandit chief who is in quest of a beautiful lady's jewels.

Many complications arise as would be the case in anything with these two clowns involved and the way they get out of the trouble makes up one of the funniest of all Laurel-Hardy comedies.
